WADING AT ASBURY PARK.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Aug. 9.—Perhaps never in the history of Asbury Park has surf-bathing been more safe and comfortable than it is this year. There has not been a drowning accident in about twenty years, and the sport has always been excellent; but it has been greatly improved the last two weeks by the sudden shift of the sand bank which for several years has lain 150 yards off shore. The middle of July the bank began to creep shoreward, and now it has spread itself within the 100-yard limit, so that at nearly all of the half dozen bathing grounds one can wade out for about 300 feet. This change in the ocean bottom has given surf-bathing a tremendous boom. The waders, who constitute by far the largest portion of the bathers, are, of course, especially pleased. The temperature of the water has also risen several degrees this week. The combination of warmer water and shallower water has filled the bathing grounds full of people every day. At the Asbury grounds, "Founder" Bradley ran out of bathing suits on Tuesday.

Among the Washingtonians who are spending the summer here is W. D. McFarland, who is a guest of the Asbury Inn.

Charles J. Taylor, of the Baltimore firm of Charles J. Taylor & Co., has returned to the Ocean Hotel for the season. He is accompanied by Mrs. Taylor. One of the most accomplished horsemen seen on the avenues this year is Miss E. B. Hale, of Washington, who is a guest of the Park View.

Miss Elbert Stahl, of Baltimore, a guest of the Ocean Hotel, was surprised last Saturday when her young friends at the hotel presented her with a mammoth cake on the occasion of her sixteenth birthday.

George E. Griffin, of Washington, has been spending the week here on West Lake Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sanders and their daughters, Miss Laura and Miss Marie Sanders, of Washington, are on their first visit to Asbury Park. They reached the Coleman House on Monday, where they will remain until the end of the month. The Hon. Robert T. Lincoln, who was a cottager at Deal last year, has been spending a few days there, renewing old acquaintances on the golf links.

The four standing in the rear, from left to right, are Walter Hale, Mr. McKay, Mary Shaw, and Frank Burbeck. The two men sitting in front are Digby Bell on the left and Frank Perry on the right. The others sitting are, from left to right, Miss Henrietta Crossman, Mrs. Digby Bell, Harry Woodruff, Nannette Comstock, Miss Meltzer, Mrs. Walter Hale, and Charles H. Meltzer.

AT SIASCONSET ON OLD NANTUCKET ISLAND.

OCEAN GROVE'S BIG CAMP.

OCEAN GROVE, N. J., Aug. 9.—For the third annual camp meeting, which opens in ten days, the thousands of campers already here, and the thousands that will arrive in a few days, are preparing. The camp meeting marks the culmination of the season's round of services which opened the latter part of June. With its two weeks' program the summer's series of religious endeavor will end on September 1. Bishop J. N. Fitzgerald and the Camp Meeting Association are making special arrangements for evangelistic services at this year's camp. The object of this wind-up series of services is to get every soul in the city converted, and to that end several celebrated evangelists, who have never worked at Ocean Grove, will be imported this year.

One thousand children are drilling for the annual children's musical festival, which takes place next Wednesday evening. In connection with the festival there will be a street parade, when the boys will appear in rough rider uniforms and the girls will wear white dresses and carry Japanese umbrellas. The festival is the most popular event of the summer at Ocean Grove.

The blackboard in the tabernacle containing the names of campers and friends of Ocean Grove who have died since last year is headed by the names of President McKinley, Rev. T. Dewitt Talmage and Senator William J. Sewell. Judge Riley E. Wright, of the Orphans' Court of Baltimore, is spending the month at the Atlantic House.

Dr. A. M. Buck, for a quarter of a century chief clerk in the Surgeon General's office, arrived from Washington this week and made his quarters at the New Philadelphia. With him is L. P. Brown, record clerk in the Pension Office.

Prominent among the Washington guests of the Langdon is Mary Lattimore and Miss Isabel Lattimore.

Capt. James Bowman, U. S. A., a brother of Bishop Bowman, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, is, with Mrs. Bowman, at the Ardmore.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Thompson are late additions to the Washington colony at the Langdon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Bryant, of Washington, are staying at the Spray View. They are accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. Bryant.

The Waverly is entertaining Mrs. N. C. Downs, of Washington.

Washington visitors at the Langdon are Dr. and Mrs. Z. B. Babbitt, Miss Florence L. Babbitt, and Mrs. Mary E. Chase.

EVENTS AT LONG BRANCH.

LONG BRANCH, N. J., Aug. 9.—Society is now priming itself for the next and last great social event of the season on this part of the coast—the amateur circus and wild west show, which the cottagers and hotel guests are going to hold next Friday and Saturday on the Hollywood grounds of the Monmouth Horse Show Association. The young folks are taking most enthusiastic interest in this new and novel event, which this year takes the place of the military tournament.

With the red flag in front of the luxuriantly appointed Ocean Club on Thursday, those persons who had hoped against hope that public gambling would not be altogether routed out of the branch this season lost all hope. The mahogany tables and massive solid silverware and cutglass chandeliers and choice carpets, and paintings by the masters, that adorned the walls of the Ocean Club, were auctioned off yesterday.

Mrs. James Smith, Jr., wife of former United States Senator Smith of New Jersey, gave a luncheon at the Elberon on Monday. Among her guests were Mrs. B. M. Shanley, Mrs. J. F. Shanley, Miss Mary Smith, Mrs. G. H. Kruger, Mrs. H. A. Towle, Mrs. Peter Hark, Mr. Mrs. B. Elliott, and Mrs. M. T. Barrett.

Gen. A. H. Callif, treasurer of the Missouri Pacific Railroad, is occupying his cottage at North Beach.

J. B. Tremaine and Miss S. Tremaine, of Richmond, reached the Branch on Saturday to remain until the latter part of the month.

A Washington guest of the Hotel Pennant is T. H. Hunter, of Washington, who is a special guest at the Ocean Grove, Sea Bright, figured prominently at the mid-summer ball last Saturday evening.

IN OLD YORK, MAINE.

YORK, Me., Aug. 9.—Happy for York and the summer folk that the 20th anniversary of its organization occurred at this date, when the season is in full swing. For weeks preparations had been on foot, and a determination had been shown to make the day a memorable one in the history of the old town, so rich in Colonial and Revolutionary associations.

The route of the parade was over historic ground, passing the old jail with its stone dungeon, the Wilcox tavern that stood and John Adams, James Monroe, and other famous men; Paul Wood bridges colonial inn, where entertainment was refused to "all who are not patriots."

It crossed Sewall's Bridge (the first pile bridge built in the United States), and passed near the historic mansion, built by Hon. David Sewall, judge of the district court of Maine, under Washington, Adams, Jefferson, and Monroe. This house is now occupied by the Rev. Frank Sewall, of Washington, D. C., who was an officer of the day, the Misses Sewall also serving on special committees.

In the afternoon commemorative exercises were held on the green near the town hall. Hon. James Baxter, of Portland, assisted in the literary program. Thomas Nelson Page, who is summer residents of York, and William Dean Howells, who isjourning at Kittery Point, assisted in the literary program.

Recent arrivals at the Yorkville Inn are: Mr. and Mrs. G. Pratt, of West Newton; Eugene H. Pold, New York; Miss M. H. Johnson, Washington, D. C. At the Albion, Mr. and Mrs. James Morrow, Mrs. Morrow, Philadelphia; Charles H. Leland, C. H. Leland, New York; M. A. Whyke, Philadelphia; Miss Mary C. Eastman, Concord; Mrs. Paul Dahlgren and daughter, Newport; Miss Elizabeth L. Walker, Miss Mary L. Walker, Maiden; Miss Elizabeth Nichols, New York. At Young's Hotel, Mr. and Mrs. Braden, Mrs. E. C. Morgan, Washington, D. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Washburn, Melrose; A. D. Hoyt, Mrs. Thomas R. Eames, Arlington; Dr. L. M. Farrington, Boston; Frank S. Dinmore, New York; Mrs. E. Bradford Clarke, Woodbury, N. J.; Mrs.

C. Reeves Clark, Miss Bessie H. Clark, Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Stokes, Montreal; Mrs. V. A. Howard, Rochester, N. Y.; Mrs. James Alcorn, Mrs. Horio Hicks, Tennessee; Mrs. J. A. Corey, Trenton, N. J. At the Waverly, Rev. Edward Dillon and family, Woodbury, N. J.; Miss Isabella Rice, Mrs. Waller, Miss Postlewait, Mr. and Mrs. Hills, Miss Hills, Mrs. William Morgan, Mrs. Thompson, Washington, D. C.; Dr. and Mrs. Ludwick, Baltimore.

WASHINGTON GROVE, MD.

WASHINGTON GROVE, Md., Aug. 9.—The Montgomery County Sunday School Union held a two days' session at the Grove this week. Several addresses were delivered by noted speakers and officers were elected.

The daily program of the camp services runs thus:
 6:30 a. m., early morning prayer.
 Fifteen minutes in charge of Presiding Elder H. R. Naylor and a layman.
 8:30 a. m., prayer an experience meeting.
 9 a. m., ladies' meeting in charge of Mrs. Robert Cohen.
 11 a. m., preaching service.
 4 p. m., children's meeting in charge of Mrs. D. E. Wilber.
 7 p. m., Young People's meeting, led by Rev. E. S. Dunham.
 8 p. m., preaching service; sermon by Rev. E. S. Dunham.

The ministers attending camp meeting are: C. O. Isaac, T. E. Copes, J. E. Nicholson, Page Milburn, A. H. Thompson, and E. D. Huntley.

A luncheon was given by Miss Grace Osborn on Wednesday in honor of her guest, Miss Ota Murray, of Baltimore. Those present were the Misses Eva Peck, Mary Fannone, Edith Carter, Maud Lindsay, Meta Altshuler, Bessie Foster, Nettie Craig, Grace Welch, and Mary E. Milburn.

Mrs. Robert Cohen has returned from Atlantic City.

Mr. Clarence Archibald visited Mr. E. M. Hall, of Grove Avenue.

Cottages have been taken by Mr. Forest Gotchell, on Fourth Avenue, and the Messrs. Apple, on Fifth Avenue.

Miss Edith Gardner and the Messrs. Peck, Mary Fannone, Edith Carter, Maud Lindsay, Meta Altshuler, Bessie Foster, Nettie Craig, Grace Welch, and Mary E. Milburn.

Mr. Jesse H. Wilson, Jr., is spending a month with Mr. Henry Craig.

Mr. Samuel H. Walker, with his wife and son, visited his daughter, Mrs. W. B. Hardy, at the hotel.

Rev. George W. Hyde is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Padgett.

Other visitors to the Grove are Mr. and Mrs. La Petra, Mr. Frank Woodward, Miss F. H. Stolk, Mr. William K. Cohen, Mr. Charles Greene, Mr. Will Sullivan, Miss Kate Emmert, Miss Elfreda Van Ness, Mr. and Mrs. Dr. Huntley, Rev. and Mrs. T. E. Copes, Rev. J. M. Searow, of Baltimore, Mr. Clarence Lindsay, Miss Maggie Breinford, Miss Blanche Bradlock, and Mr. Frank Keyes.

tained by an athletic tournament, in which many trained contestants were entered. Those scoring highest in the various entries were the three handicapped athletes, Joseph Hill, Brownlow, and Green.

On Saturday night the first Atlantic German was danced before an interested throng of spectators. It was a very pretty and spontaneous affair and was led by Mr. Emma Vagamon of Washington, with Miss Sara Applegarth, of Baltimore.

The Sunday night concert given as usual in the Atlantic hall room was one of unusual excellence and received a large patronage. The numbers deserving special mention were the "cello and violin solos of Mr. Villapando and Mr. Carelius Christiani.

The special feature of the sacred concert in the Film Casino Sunday night was a contralto solo by Mrs. Henry Franklin, formerly Miss Dorothy Lair, of Washington. Mrs. Franklin possesses a delightful voice and her song was a valuable addition to the excellent program prepared by the Hollywood mandolin orchestra.

No small enthusiasm was felt on Monday over the election of a new mayor and members of the city council. Of the many nominees for mayor, Mr. John F. Waggaman, of Washington, was successful and the new council is now composed of Capt. Christopher Ludlow, Reverdy J. Dennis, Thomas J. Copper, John D. Howell, and James Z. Powell.

The third marine euvre held in the Pagoda Tuesday afternoon was quite as pleasant an affair as either of its predecessors. Eight tables were formed, refreshments served during the intervals, and prizes awarded at the close.

MERRY DAYS RULE AT CAPON SPRINGS, W. VA.

CAPON SPRINGS, W. Va., Aug. 9.—Capon has had another very gay week with the Washington colony playing a very prominent part in all of the entertainments. On Monday a very clever minstrel performance was gotten up by the young men at the Springs, the stars being W. Adair Brooks, and George Waggaman, of Washington; B. H. Tripp and S. C. Sellers, of Baltimore, and C. Moran Barry, of Norfolk.

After the performance Mrs. Lenox Simpson, of Washington, gave a charming supper for young people in honor of her daughters, Misses Christine and Marguerite Simpson. The tables were arranged in one of the private dining rooms and lavishly decorated with ferns and cut flowers. Those present were Miss Bella Batesman, Charles Harvey, Jr., Miss Lucie Jones and Randolph Simpson, Washington; Miss Janet Lemmon, Miss Alice Hammond, Morris Muller, S. C. Sellers, Miss Sellers, Allen Hammond, Thomas H. Vickery, Baltimore; Robert James, Wido Hackett, Raymond Mitchell, Harold Mitchell, Easton, Pa.; Miss Elise Henry, Morristown, N. J.; Miss Vaughan, Louisville.

Mr. John Russell, of Columbus, Ohio, also gave a supper after the show in honor of Miss Emory, of Washington. Among those present were Mrs. Emmett Tompkins, Mr. Adair Brooks, Washington; Miss Bowen, Cincinnati; C. Moran Barry, Norfolk; S. C. Clubb, St. Louis; Miss Alice Basin, and Miss Louise Clabaugh, B. H. Tripp, and R. H. Tripp, Baltimore.

The same evening a small but prettily arranged card party was given by Mrs. Walter D. Wyville, of Washington. The highest prize was won by Mrs. H. A. Whallon, of the same city.

One of the most attractive young girls at Capon this season is Miss Bella Batesman, daughter of Mrs. A. E. Batesman, of Washington.

Messrs. E. F. Droop and R. H. Kirkpatrick arrived at Capon on Thursday morning, having driven up from Washington in their own trap, with an extra saddle horse following.

ORKNEY SPRINGS, VA.

ORKNEY SPRINGS, Va., Aug. 9.—The progressive euvre given by Miss Beale Dailer at the Orkney Springs Hotel was a decided success. Miss E. M. Phelps, of Washington, D. C., carrying off the honors, while Mr. C. S. Cheener, of Baltimore, won the gentleman's prize.

The dances given every evening are enjoyed by all, especially the "Virginia reels," which include the children and the "old folk."

Among the latest arrivals at the hotel are A. W. Capron and W. L. Miller, of Washington.

BRIGHTWOOD AND VICINITY.

The death of Dr. Henry Darling on Wednesday evening last, removes from our midst one of the most highly valued residents of this section and leaves a void that will be difficult to fill.

Dr. Darling had been a resident of Brightwood for more than twenty years, and during that time had been actively engaged in all matters pertaining to the welfare and progress of the locality. Prior to the illness which terminated in his death he enjoyed a large practice covering an extensive territory, and his skill as a physician and the kindly nature of the man made him many friends who keenly feel their loss.

Dr. J. E. Keene is spending the month of August at Atlantic City.

Miss Baird, of Brightwood Park, left on Thursday for Connecticut, where she will spend some time with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. William S. Terbert entertained a small company at dinner on Thursday in celebration of the sixth anniversary of their marriage.
